

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

HOMEBUILDERS/OWNERS RESOURCE GRAND REOPENING A GRAND SUCCESS

The Villages, Florida – November 25, 2008

Bailey Industries, a national leader in products and services for professional builders for 16 years, recently redesigned its location in The Villages and hosted two Grand Re-Opening Events. The redesign focused on making the company's products and features more accessible to the public so that homeowners can experience the same top-rated cabinets, flooring, appliances and design ideas long-favored by the building industry.

“We've created an open atmosphere and a hands-on, interactive environment where professional and private customers alike can walk through model kitchens and other room displays, select cabinets, flooring, finishes and talk to our staff about design ideas,” says president Jon Reddell.

Two Grand Reopening events took place, one for the general public on November 14th, and one for professional builders, contractors and designers, which ran on the 13th and attracted an estimated 75 industry experts. Both events featured name-brand vendors presenting their product lines, as well as Bailey service staff who were on-hand to provide information, demonstrations and refreshments.

“Both openings were extremely well-attended,” says Gerry Des Plaines. “We're thrilled to have our Villages location redesigned and ready to offer the first-rate products and service people have come to expect from Bailey Industries.”
